About the event

The Integrated Care Summit will offer you the chance to exchange knowledge, experience and new ideas in the design and delivery of the integrated health and social care agenda. Leading policy makers and informative best practice sessions will provide valuable learning as local authorities and the health sector work to pool budgets and join up health and social care across the country.

Key topics to be discussed:

- The NHS Long-Term Plan: looking to the future and understanding the requirements for ICSs
- Meeting the April 2021 target: designing a comprehensive integrated care system
- What is the current state of health and care integration? What progress has been made so far?
- Place-based health and social care integration: working to tackle challenges together
- How can technology support service integration while delivering better care at a lower cost?
- Utilising the third sector, voluntary organisations, local authorities and community initiatives
- Looking to the future for Primary Care Networks: assessing local populations and social prescribing
- Digital leadership and transforming services: the future for data sharing in the public sector
- Making shared decisions about financial planning and prioritisation in your locality
- Evidencing a track record of strong financial and performance delivery
- Early adopters: case studies of successful ICS initiatives from around the UK

Who should attend?
